

We guarantee that you can't help but to laugh at all the antics!

This is a very entertaining attraction, which is enjoyed by audiences of all ages. It involves lots of action and most of all, audience participation. "The Frog Trainers," as we call them, are chosen by the raising of hands from the audience. The persons selected get to choose a live frog and take the frog from a bucket to the center of the jumping ring and place it on the starting pad.

The frog then gets to make three long jumps. The distance is then measured in a straight line to its last landing, and the trainer with the longest distance wins a trophy. Also, as we have no losers, all the trainers win a "Certificate of Participation."

"All our frogs are farm raised, not wild caught"
